

MONTANA RECLAIMED LUMBER CO
QUALITY ANTIQUE LUMBER PRODUCTS

CORE ELEMENTS PANELING

In an effort to further reclaim the reclaimed, we add finish to boards band-sawn from the cores of joists, rafters, and beams. These cores exhibit some of the same characteristics as our other reclaimed lumber, like tighter growth rings, nail holes, and stability, but also provide the modern convenience of a finish that is ready to side your home or clad your interior walls in a range of colors. While many try to replicate the look of reclaimed with new wood, our core elements line begins with stable antique lumber for unmatched authenticity.

Prior to finishing, these boards have been kiln dried for stability and back planed to a consistent $\frac{3}{4}$ " thickness for straightforward installation. We stock square-edge widths between 4" and 7" (in 1" increments), which can be single- or mixed-width, depending on your desired aesthetic. If these stock options aren't exactly what you were looking for, we are happy to mill to your custom specifications.
